Esoko is currently looking for Reseller/Franchise partners - especially in East and South Africa.

As Africa's leading information platform for farmers, Esoko is growing fast. Our expansion model is to find local entrepreneurs to run Esoko's service as their own. Please read through this site, and visit about.esoko.com for a description of the service itself. If you are interested, then apply online by filling out the short application form.

What is Esoko?

Esoko is the most powerful platform to communicate with farmers. Businesses, projects, governments and mobile operators all use Esoko to build up their networks of farmers and deliver and monitor critical information. Individual farmers can subscribe and get market prices, weather, offers and agric tips. To learn more about the service, visit our website:
